TORREON TAKEN BY VILLA'S MEN

Fiercest Fighting Known
In Mexico.

MUCH WEEPING AND MOURNING

Fathers, Brothers, Husbands and Sweethearts Included
Among the Slain.

FEARFUL WRECKAGE WROUGHT

Torreón, Mex., April 4.—There is blood on every lintel and crepe on every door in Torreón and women are weeping in the streets.

Not in the history of warfare in Mexico has any city suffered more in attack than did Torreón in the repeated charges made by Gen. Villa's victorious army.

Hardly a household escaped. From every one, a father, a brother, a husband or sweetheart is numbered among the killed, wounded or missing; the result of the terrible onslaught made by Gen. Villa's Constitutionalists.

The physical wreckage wrought is rapidly being cleared up, but the heartbreaks, though stoically endured, will linger.

Though actual figures relating to Federal losses probably never will be obtained, it is believed the killed will number over 1,000 and the wounded probably twice as many more. Of the latter between 400 and 500 were so badly crippled that they could not be moved and are being cared for by the Constitutionalist hospital corps.

While the dead bodies which littered the streets and beset the air were picked up and burned in great heaps soon after the occupation of the city, many dead are still being found in houses in every street through which the Constitutionalists passed in their efforts to drive the Federals out. In the wreckage of one building in a portion of the city captured in the fight by Eugenio Aguirre Benavides, Saragoza Brigade, twelve dead were found. The entire party had evidently been victims of a dynamite bomb, which had been thrown through a window, exploding with such force as not only to kill the occupants of the house but to batter down the walls.

That they were not found before is due to the fact that they were completely covered by the wreckage. The terrible stench emanating from the ruins forced the officer in charge of that portion of the city to have more complete examinations made, which revealed the bodies. They were brought to the street, dumped on a pile of wood, the whole saturated with many gallons of oil and gasoline and a match applied.

Villa's formal entry into Torreón was made Friday, when at the head of his staff and followed by the entire army of occupation, a parade of the streets was made and formal possession taken of the place.

Women of the city strewed the way with roses and other flowers, and Villa was cheered heartily as he rode at the head of the cavalcade. To his credit it must be said that he accepted the honors which the citizens of Torreón insisted upon heaping upon him very modestly.

To a delegation of citizens, who waited on him to welcome him to the city, he said that he was entitled to no credit, and that any honor should be given to the army and not to him personally. He deplored the political exigencies which compelled him to wreak such havoc upon the town and said the blame for the city's destruction should be put on the Federal commander, who insisted upon lighting from within the city's boundaries.

The work of rehabilitation is progressing rapidly. The wreckage of buildings which toppled over into the streets is being cleared up. Barrels of adobe, brick, stones and cotton bales are being removed. The railroad and street car bridges across the Nasas river, which had been destroyed by the Federals upon their retreat from Gómez Palacio, have been rebuilt and street car service with Lerdo and Gómez Palacio has been restored.

The city water service is being restored as rapidly as possible. Most of the stores have been reopened and delegations of merchants have been sent to El Paso to buy goods with which to restock their establishments. These merchants are all supplied with orders to the authorities in Juárez to pass all goods intended for Torreón, Gómez Palacio and Lerdo, duty free. The work of feeding the poor is still in progress, but the task is a stupendous one. Fresh beef, supplied by the nearby ranches, is the main dependence.

Fleeing To the Border.
Laredo, Tex., April 4.—Anticipating the destruction of the city of Monterrey by the rebels, following their triumph at Torreón, many wealthy Mexicans are fleeing to the border, bearing with them all their portable property. An order was issued to-day by the National Railway lines suspending all train service between Monterrey and Nuevo Laredo.

A REMARKABLE RECORD
—FORMER HARTFORD BOY

The Linotype Bulletin, a periodical published in the interest of the trade, contains the following account of what it calls "a remarkable record" for speed made on a Linotype. The young operator mentioned is Victor S. Matthews, only son of the senior editor of The Herald, and of course the "old man" is always proud of his boy and his work. This is one among a series of records for high speed that Victor has made in recent years, and he is getting to be classed among the swiftest machine operators in the trade. The Bulletin says:

A REMARKABLE RECORD.
Accompanied with an affidavit duly attested by four witnesses and acknowledged before a notary, comes the following record made by V. S. Matthews, machinist-operator on a double magazine Linotype in the office of the Marshall (Texas) Messenger, on Saturday, Feb. 21:

With the machine running eight lines a minute Mr. Matthews set 3,208 lines of 8-point and 10-point, 13 lines wide, in exactly eight hours. In the 3,208 lines he inserted 213 dash rules, of which there were six different styles, making a total of 3,429 lines. He fed the metal pot, dumped his takes, and corrected his proofs. The copy was regular "run of the mill," consisting of ad. composition, cap heads, manuscript, typewritten, and reprint, such as is usually found in newspaper offices where only one Linotype is used. There were no recasts. There are 138 lines (10-point) to a 19½-inch column, therefore the 3,429 lines equaled approximately twenty-five columns.

The young man is also doing some pretty good cartoon work "on the side."

POSTMASTERS APPOINTED IN THE FOURTH DISTRICT

Washington, April 4.—The Post-Office Department has announced the appointment of the following postmasters in the Fourth Kentucky Congressional district: Custer, Raymond Knasey; Garfield, Mrs. Ella Mattingly; Bonnerville, Mrs. Gertrude Stuveville; Huffmire, Mrs. Leila D. Friend; Munfordville, William H. Atchbury; Olinton, Robert L. Arms; Reynolds Station, Mrs. Viva D. Adamson; Rhodella, Roland Vassell; Tip Top, Miss Luella E. Schible; Stithton, Jerry B. Wise; White Mills, Robert S. Wortham; Center Hill, Samuel W. Crowe; Millwood, Miss Irene Crawford; Cromwell, Ben F. Cooper.

STATE TEACHERS TO MEET IN LOUISVILLE

The chief item for the school people of the county and the State is the meeting of the State Educational association at Louisville, Ky., the last week in April, continuing for four days. It is estimated that there will be between 5,000 and 6,000 teachers of the State present.

Educators from various States will be there and address the teachers on many subjects of interest to the teachers. The high schools of the county will be represented by most of the teachers employed in them. It is hoped that many of the teachers in the rural schools will take advantage of this meeting. There will be reduced railroad rates and perhaps a special train to convey the teachers from this and adjoining counties.

"Gen." Kelly, who organized an "army" of unemployed to march from California to Washington, was convicted of vagrancy by a jury in Sacramento and sentenced Saturday.

RESERVE BANKS FOR 12 CITIES

Neither Louisville or Cincinnati a Center.

ONLY ONE BANK NOW LOCATED
On Pacific Coast—Decision
Is Made After Three Months' Inquiry.

TOTAL CAPITAL, $100,808,902

Washington, April 4.—After three months of consideration the reserve bank organization committee announced it had divided continental United States into twelve banking districts, and selected twelve cities where federal banks are to be located under the new currency law. This is the first decisive step toward the establishment of the new system.

The banks will be located as follows: Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Richmond, Va., Atlanta, Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Kansas City, Dallas, Texas, San Francisco.

Cleveland is the center of banking district No. 4. The capital of the bank there will be $11,621,535, with 672 national and several State banks. The territory includes the State of Ohio, parts of Pennsylvania and West Virginia, and all of Kentucky East of the West boundary of the following counties: Boone, Grant, Scott, Woodford, Jessamine, Garrard, Lincoln, Pulaski and McCreary.

District No. 8 has St. Louis as the center, with a capital of $6,019,323, with 424 national banks. The territory is Arkansas, part of Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Tennessee, Mississippi, and all of Kentucky not included in district No. 4.

The organization committee was not authorized to provide for branch banks of the federal reserve banks, but the act specifically states that such banks shall be established. This task will be left to the supervision of the federal reserve board, yet to be appointed by the President.

The committee called attention to the fact that under the requirements of the act it could not find grounds for the establishment of more than one bank on the Pacific coast, but hoped in the near future that Congress would authorize another bank which can be located in this great section.

In a supplemental statement the committee gave out the following statistics used in determining the cities and districts:

District No. 4.—Area in square miles, 183,995.

District No. 8.—Area in square miles, 116,474.

Population—6,726,611.

According to the committee's figures the total capital and surplus of the approximate 7,500 banks in the system will be $109,893,902.

COUNTRY'S OLDEST CITY SWEEP BY FIERCE FIRE

St. Augustine, Fla., April 3.—Historic St. Augustine, the oldest city in the United States, yesterday was swept by fire which left in its wake the serious injury to two winter visitors, the destruction of records and curios dating back to the days of Spanish rule in the Sixteenth century, and a property loss estimated at $400,000.

Winter visitors from the North live tourists hotels, which were destroyed, fled into the streets before daybreak, many of them leaving valuable personal belongings to be burned. Several of the guests escaped, clad only in their sleeping apparel. The personal loss of visitors in the fire has not yet been determined.

CAT LIVED THIRTY-FOUR DAYS WITHOUT EATING

Uniontown, Pa., April 4.—A male cat lived thirty-four days without food or water, according to James McKay, the owner of the cat, who, when he moved on February 22, overlooked the cat. Mack McKay went to the old McKay home to clean the house for another tenant and found the cat penned in a room 10x12 feet.

MAY REACH VOTE IN THREE WEEKS

Senate Will Debate Canal Tolls Matter.

WILL LINE UP THEIR FORCES
For and Against the Measure
—Political Stalwarts
Will Participate.

LONG STRUGGLE ANTICIPATED

Washington, April 5.—With the scene of activity on the issue of Panama toll exemption repeat shifted to the Senate, after the triumph of the Administration in the House last week, plans still remain in the formulative stage for the final struggle in the great controversy.

Formal consideration of the bill to repeal toll exemption for American ships will be taken up Tuesday morning by the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, of which Senator O'Gorman, leader of the Democratic opposition, is chairman. Besides the House bill, upon which President Wilson and his adherents propose to stand, the committee will have before it various amendments and proposed compromises, and these will be discussed during the week before any formal report is made to the Senate.

While the committee is at work preliminary discussion of the tolls subject will continue in the Senate, various champions and opponents of the measure having given notice of their intention to speak during the week. Leaders in the fight do not expect speeches to change any votes, but that there will be a flood of oratorical effort which will far exceed in length and intensity the twenty-hour debate on the bill in the House is conceded.

No one in close touch with the situation would predict to-night how long the controversy in the Senate might continue, but the most optimistic proponents of repeal do not look for a vote for three weeks. The repeal bill and attendant measures will be in committee at least a week, and general debate cannot begin until some sort of a report is made or a motion is offered to discharge the committee from further consideration of the bill. Senators Hoke Smith, of Georgia, James, of Kentucky, and Owen, of Oklahoma, are to lead the Administration forces in the contest. From the Republican side they will be aided by Senators Root, Lodge and McCumber. Democratic opposition forces will be directed by Senators O'Gorman, of New York; Chamberlain, of Oregon, and Ashurst, of Arizona. On the Republican side, Senator Gallinger, the minority leader, will direct the opposition to the repeal, and such stalwarts as Senators Penrose and Oliver are planning to consolidate the Republican vote against repeal insofar as that can be done. Many Progressive-Republican Senators will join the opposition, but despite the formidable array of the anti-Administration forces, the President and his supporters retain confidence that the repeal cause will be upheld.

THE CHENEY CONCERT CO. IS COMING FRIDAY NIGHT

Owing to a misconnection in transit, the Stradforfs, which were to have been the last of the present College Lyceum Course, failed to appear at Hartford College on March 23, but in their stead the management has secured a company of entertainers which they are satisfied will in every way "fill the bill." The Cheney Concert Company, under the exclusive management of the Continental Lyceum Bureau of Louisville, Ky., will appear at Hartford College next Friday night, April 10.

The Cheney Concert Company is composed of five sisters and brothers—Misses Louise, Pauline and Maud, and Messrs. Owen and Marx Cheney, musicians, and Miss Helen Horner, render and soprano.

The members of this Company are true artists, possessing unusual talent and ability. They have made their profession a life study, and have had opportunities as afforded by America's as well as Holland's greatest schools and music masters.

The work of this Company by on a high plane of artistic endeavor—their ideals in programs is to use only the best—yet so arranged that it is entertaining as well as educational. Their selections include movements from the greatest symphonies, some of the greatest overtures, selections from operas, also spicy selections such as Spanish dances, Hungarian dances, and melodious arrangements of the folk songs.

The readings include not only the best classics, but also humorous selections which are irresistibly funny and can not fail to lengthen the life of every one who hears them. At the same time they are of high quality, being selected from the works of some of the greatest writers.

THIS WOMAN POSED AS A MAN FOR SIXTY YEARS

Quincy, Ill., April 4.—After having masqueraded as a man for 60 years, and having served as a soldier in General U. S. Grant's army during the Civil War, "Albert" Cashier, whose sex was discovered at the Soldiers' Home recently, today was committed to an asylum for the insane.

The woman was born in Ireland 73 years ago. She came to America a sa swaay, clad in boy's clothing. When the war between the States broke out she, having enlisted to represent herself as a male, enlisted in Company G, Ninety-eighth Illinois Infantry.

When the war closed she resumed civil life as a woman until age and the results of exposure during the war made her helpless to support herself. She then entered the Soldiers' Home, where her sex was discovered while she was under the care of a surgeon.

Local Macabees Honored.

A letter has been received by Commander R. T. Collins, of Hartford Tent No. 99, from State Commander Elkin in which he promises local Macabees a visit from Supreme Commander D. P. Markey, of Detroit, Mich. He will only make three stops while in Kentucky, namely, Louisville, Hartford and Paducah, being here on Thursday, April 23. Mr. Markey is one of the greatest orators in this country and it is indeed an honor to have him visit this city. Mr. Collins and other leading Macabees instrumental in bringing about this visit are to be congratulated.

The address will be held in one of the public buildings, probably the court house, and the public will be invited to hear this great orator. April 10.

He Likes The Herald.

Mr. Rose Crans, Cal., April 1, I have been a subscriber to The Herald for many years. It is like a letter from home, as I was born and reared near Silver Run, Ky. ROCKEFELLER'S LONG FIGHT WON Against Lone Trapper In Adirondacks.

OLD FELLOW WAS HARRASSED
For Years By Agents Of The Oil King—Son Succumbed At Last.

ONCE GOT IR-CENT JUDGMENT

Malone, N. Y., April 2.—Word was received here to-day that the celebrated Rockefeller-Lamora feud was ended by the action of William Lamora in selling the cabin and grounds left to him by his father, the hunter and trapper, who steadfastly refused to surrender his property to make up a portion of William Rockefeller's vast Adirondack game preserve. The old man's dying declaration was that Rockefeller would never get the property.

In 1902 William Rockefeller set out to acquire his Adirondack game preserve, and out of it arose the legal battle of the oil magnate and the old trapper and fisherman. Oliver Lamora Rockefeller bought 12,000 acres around the town of Brandon. Oliver Lamora's cabin and clearing were in the way, but he steadfastly refused all offers from Rockefeller to purchase the property. And the old trapper refused to obey the signs that Rockefeller caused to be nailed to trees forbidding any one to trespass on the property, to fish in the streams, and even prohibited the children from picking berries.

Three thousand of these signs were posted and Rockefeller had so entirely bought up the village of Brandon that you could not go to church nor the children to school without committing a technical trespass every time it happened.

The indignation of all the old settlers grew warmer and warmer. Rockefeller had purchased five miles of property on both sides of the St. Regis river, a glorious woodland stream that flows to the St. Lawrence, famous for more than a century for the magnificent trout in its waters. It was the desire to possess this stream that brought about the wholesale Rockefeller purchases.

Oliver Lamora was a rugged old man of French-Canadian descent, and he could look upon Rockefeller's advent in the country as nothing but a rank invasion. Save for the time when he was serving in the Civil War, Lamora had lived along the lakes and river of this section his whole life. He had made his living from the trout streams and woods. He regarded the Rockefeller signs of prohibition as ridiculous.

He wept on shaking his fist in the faces of the Rockefeller keepers and pulling trout out of the St. Regis.

Rockefeller had Lamora arrested on charges of trespassing, but twice he beat Rockefeller in the courts by showing that the fish in the Rockefeller stream were supplied by the State hatchery and that the Park Law of 1910 forbids the setting aside of such waters as part of any private estate. Lamora even found himself accused of trespassing because he had to go through Rockefeller grounds to get to the Brandon post-office.

On the third occasion, when Rockefeller got Lamora in the courts, it was in a civil suit for damages. The old inhabitant was charged with trespassing and the unlawful taking of thirty-six trout. Lamora's old friends and neighbors in Brandon rallied around the old trapper, who had very little money, and raised by subscription the financial armament with which to battle with the Rockefeller high priced lawyers.

The case went through several courts, and finally the Appellate Court decided in Rockefeller's favor. He got damages in the staggering sum of 18 cents. But $800 in costs was chalked up against old Lamora. The loss of his cabin was threatened for a time in order to satisfy this claim.

Rockefeller agents awaited constantly the chance to acquire the property by purchase from the public authorities. But Lamora's friends were still loyal to him and clubbed together successfully to raise the sum.

For the remainder of the old man's life the Rockefeller agents recognized as useless any attempt to get him to sell. After he died his son, to whom the property fell, assumed the same attitude as his father toward offers of purchase from the Standard Oil man.

But the constant dropping of oil may wear away a stone, and the younger Lamora has succumbed at last.

AN "APRIL FOOL" WALLET PROVED THE REAL STUFF

York, Penn., April 1.—An old wallet, which showed the ravage of time and service, and which was being kicked about the streets here to-day and looked upon as an April fool joke, was picked up by Thad S. Strohman, local detective, and, on examination, was found to contain $1,000 in bills.

Those who were watching the officer as he lifted the wallet from the sidewalk were prepared to give him the laugh.

They were very much surprised when they saw him unfold the notes as he took them from the folds of the old wallet. The money was the property of Wm. Hykes and had been lost while Hykes was on his way to a bank.

It was restored to the owner and a liberal reward was offered to the finder, but he refused to accept any of the money.

Detective Strohman two years ago to-day found $45 in a pocketbook which everybody else took for granted had been thrown into the street as an "April fool" joke.

ANOTHER CLUBBING OFFER

Our recent clubbing of Hartford Herald, Cincinnati Weekly Enquirer, Farm and Fireside, &c., all for $1.00 was the most popular combination we ever had, but we have withdrawn it and have one in its place which we believe will be more enticing than the other. It is as follows:

KENTUCKIAN POSSESSES

BULLET PHOOE CRANICUM

Louisville, Ky., April 4.—"If I get well I intend to try again," explained John Logsdon, 41 years old, to-night at the City Hospital, where he was taken after shooting himself. He explained his experience in this fashion:

"I got me a twenty-two revolver. It was a cheap affair. This morning I put it to my head and pulled the trigger three times with the gun pointing at the middle of my forehead."

"It did not seem to have much effect, so I stuck the gun in my eye and pulled the trigger. That hurt a little. Then I put it on top of my head and once at the side. That was all the cartridges I had."

"After a while my head got to hurting so bad I raised a window and called to a neighbor. She called the cops. That's how I came here."

Physicians say Logsdon will live.

JOINT MEETING OF MINE MEN

To Adjust Wage Scale Agreeable To All.

RESOLUTIONS WERE ADOPTED

Condemning Lawlessness in the District, First Set Being Amended.

SCALE COMMITTEES CHOSEN

Louisville, Ky., April 2.—The exchange of proposals looking to an agreement to prevail during the next two years and the adoption of a resolution condemning acts of alleged lawlessness in and around the coal mines of Western Kentucky marked the first day's sessions of the joint conference of the Western Kentucky Coal Operators' Association and delegates from District No. 23, United Mine Workers of America.

"That we do hereby pledge ourselves as a body, and do hereby call upon each and every member of the Western Kentucky Coal Operators' Association and each and every member of District No. 23, United Mine Workers of America, to unite and use every lawful means and endeavor to restore peace and safety to the said communities, and to keep down any further acts of such unlawfulness; that said companies shall be protected in the proper management and conduct of their business, their official force, foremen and employees be protected in the enjoyment and safety of their rights while engaged in any of said companies."

"That this joint resolution be printed in the Greenville Record, the Central City Argus, the Hartford Herald, the Louisville papers, and copies thereof delivered to every local in District No. 23 and to the officers of every coal company."

F. P. Wright, president of the Operators' Association, on motion of George Baker, of the mine workers, was chosen to preside over the joint conference yesterday. H. H. Vincent was named as secretary. Wage Scale Committees were then chosen as follows:

Operators or Employers—F. P. Wright, M. M. Hardwell, C. W. Taylor, H. L. Tucker, J. A. Smith, W. L. Hughes, C. M. Martin and J. W. Bastib.

Mine Workers—L. B. Walker, George Baker, H. H. Vincent, Robert Pollock, W. D. Duncan, John B. Baker, W. C. Haagood, C. K. Watkins and John Hughes.

Chairman Wright, in a brief address, urged upon those attending the joint conference to consider the important work before them calmly and with a proper sense of responsibility.

The miners' propositions were submitted just before adjournment and were not read at length. Few changes, however, are made in the agreement of 1912. The most important change is the alteration of the first section to read: "That the ratio of lump coal to mine run shall be based on 63 per cent, going into the weight box." Under the present agreement, the ratio is 62 per cent. The miners contend that this percentage is not just to them. As an alternate proposal, they suggest a fair test to determine the question.

The miners ask that the scale for mine run coal be increased from 57.37, as at present, to 61.05, based on the percentage of 66 per cent. Another increase asked to raise the minimum pay for outside work about the mine from $1.80 to $2.00. The changes in the wage scale asked, the miners state, make no material change in the cost of production and are extremely reasonable.

No great difficulty is anticipated by either side in reaching an agreement.

The only controversy of yesterday's proceedings was precipitated by introduction of a resolution, by Stewart Miller, of the operators, putting both organizations on record as condemning lawless conditions in the Western Kentucky district. The resolution was referred, after some discussion, to a special committee composed of three miners and three operators, with instructions to report a substitute.

This substitute, which was reported in the afternoon, was adopted without a dissenting voice. It differed from the original resolution in that certain parts, objected to by the miners, had been omitted. The resolution adopted was as follows:

"Whereas, certain unknown lawless men have committed and are now threatening to commit lawless acts in and around the mines in the union district of District No. 23, we have gone in bands to various mining camps and in the dead hour of the night assaulted, beaten and beaten men working for said companies; and it is commonly reported that by reason of said acts and crimes a reign of terror has been created at the various mining camps and two mines have been forced to close down and cease operations, causing a large body of men to be thrown out of employment, a great financial loss to the companies and to the community, the citizenship in and around the mining camps to be greatly alarmed and disturbed, and men to be seriously injured and their lives to be placed in grave danger.

"Whereas, such conditions are a menace to the peace, happiness and prosperity of the community; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, by the operators of the Western Kentucky Coal Operators' Association and the convention of District No. 23, United Mine Workers of America, in convention as

"That we do hereby pledge ourselves as a body, and do hereby call upon each and every member of the Western Kentucky Coal Operators' Association and each and every member of District No. 23, United Mine Workers of America, to unite and use every lawful means and endeavor to restore peace and safety to the said communities, and to keep down any further acts of such unlawfulness; that said companies shall be protected in the proper management and conduct of their business, their official force, foremen and employees be protected in the enjoyment and safety of their rights while engaged in any of said companies."

FIGHTING DEATH WITH MILLIONS

John C. C. Mayo Making a Brave Struggle.

$50,000 MONTH BEING SPENT

To Save Life of Noted Kentuckian Ill in Cincinnati Hospital.

A WIFE'S SPLENDID DEVOTION

Cincinnati, April 2.—Waging a battle for his life that is typical of his career, John C. C. Mayo, wealthy mine and timber operator of Kentucky, is spending a fortune in Cincinnati in his effort to regain health.

In his struggles to stay the hand of death Mr. Mayo has called to his aid a special train, special railroad cars, noted physicians from the East and Cincinnati, special nurses, a special telephone system, special automobiles and an entire floor of the Jewish Hospital.

The spectacular and sudden rise from a mountain school teacher to a man of great wealth within twenty-five years Mr. Mayo amassed a fortune estimated by many at $30,000,000, is being equaled by his magnificent fight for life.

Mr. Mayo has been in Cincinnati since March 1 receiving treatment for Bright's disease at the Jewish Hospital. In the course of the month that he has been a patient at the hospital it is estimated that he has spent no less than $50,000 to secure every possible advantage against the approach of death, which eminent physicians declared must be the inevitable result of his affliction.

In an effort to prolong his days physicians hurried him to Cincinnati from his home in Paintsville, Ky. Here he was placed in charge of Dr. R. R. Watkins, Dr. Alfred Friedlander and Dr. Oliver P. Holt. A special train was used to make railroad connections from Paintsville, and a special car was pressed into service. It was made plain by members of the family that no expense must be spared in this contest with death. Riches are powerless to purchase life and health, so it has been said by philosophers, but it has remained for Mr. Mayo to demonstrate that the approach of death may be retarded and the ravages of disease allayed by the skillful application, as it were, of poultices of gold.

Since the arrival of Mr. Mayo at the Jewish Hospital a new vista of splendor has been opened for employees and visitors of that institution. Mrs. Mayo, who has been at her husband's side constantly, made the arrangements. She has taken almost an entire pavilion at the hospital, comprising an entire floor. These rooms are used for the comfort of Mr. Mayo's friends and business associates, who visit him from day to day. His son and daughter are on hand whenever it is possible for them to leave their studies or when the condition of their parent warrants hurried trips to Cincinnati. Another room is used for consultation of the physicians, while there are still others used as sleeping quarters by Dr. Wilkinson, who re-

The Proof is Here the Same As Everywhere.

For those who seek relief from kidney backache, weak kidneys, bladderills, Doan's Kidney Pills offer hope of relief and the proof is here, in Hartford, the same as everywhere. Hartford people have used Doan's and Hartford people recommend Doan's, the kidney remedy used in America for fifty years.

Why suffer? Why run the risk of dangerous kidneyills—fatal Bright's disease? Here's Hartford proof. Investigate it.

S. L. King, proprietor hardware store, Hartford, Ky., says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pill a good remedy for kidney complaint, as they have benefited me whenever I have used them. I had pains across my back and finally I began taking Doan's Kidney Pill. They certainly helped me. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pill highly to anyone in need of a medicine for dia-ordered kidneys."

mains at the hospital almost every night, and other physicians. Four trained nurses are in constant attendance and special telephones have been installed for the convenience of those who are the Mayo guests.

No small expense was attached to the two trips of Dr. Slade and Dr. Biggs, of New York, specialists, who were called in consultation by the attending physicians. Special automobiles are at the disposal of the specialists and visitors.

YOU WANT TO GET THIN?
THEN CONSULT DR. TAFT

Cambridge, Mass., April 3.—Mayor J. Edward Harry, who weighs 250 pounds, will start to-morrow on a diet recommended to him by William H. Taft. In reply to a letter from Mayor Harry the ex-President wrote:

"I have lost 75 pounds since March 4. My diet has not been severe. I have not drunk a great deal of water; not more than a glass of water at my meals. I have given up bread and toast and all farinaceous food, all butter and fat; confined my meat to beef and mutton and fowl and eschewed pork and veal; have omitted fat fish like salmon and have taken no sweets of any sort.

"You can eat all vegetables but potatoes and fruit that has not too much sugar.

"You ought to take moderate exercise every day. I have tried to play a game of golf or walk four or five miles each day.

"You ought not to lose too rapidly, because it is likely to injure the muscles of your heart. If you do, and above all, you ought to be examined by the best physician you can get.

"I don't smoke or drink intoxicating liquors."

MEMORY ONLY REMAINS OF ONCE FAMOUS DYEA

Seattle, Wash., April 3.—Dyea, once the center of the Klondike gold fields and in 1900 a city of 20,000, to-day is devoted only to farming by three settlers, one an Indian woman.

Dyea is at the head of the Lynn Canal. After the discovery of gold in the Klondike in 1896, it seemed as though every adventurous person in the world was bent on reaching the new gold fields. Various routes were explored, but the easiest for the gold seekers, most of whom were on foot, was from the head of Lynn Canal and across Chilkoot Pass to the Upper Yukon.

After completion of the White Pass and Yukon Railroad, with Skagway as its sea terminus, Dyea collapsed and was abandoned. The post-office was discontinued in 1902 and the place, although it is still set down on the maps, is only a memory.

JOHNSON FAVORS CITIZENS OF WASHINGTON VOTING

Washington, April 3.—Suffrage for the District of Columbia was advocated in the District of Columbia Committee by Representative Ben Johnson, even to the extent of allowing the many negroes here to vote.

"I think the people here should be allowed to vote," said Mr. Johnson.

"It is true that one-third of the population are negroes, but if the two-thirds of white citizens cannot handle the negroes we had better move the capital to some place where they can."

Mr. Johnson ventured the opinion that there would be fewer negroes holding office in the District of Columbia under an elective system than under the appointment system. He pointed to the fact that three members of a school board of seven are negroes; that negroes are on the Committee of One Hundred that is intended to "reform" the District affairs, and that there is a negro Municipal Judge. Conditions would be bettered by the privilege of the ballot, he said.

The population of the District is about 350,000 over 100,000 of which is negro.

Manager Bill.

Senator Norris, attacking the management that had wrecked the New Haven lines, said the other day:

"Their ideas of economical management reminds me of Bill Smithers. I said to Bill Smithers one day: 'I trust you don't spend all your wages, William?'

"That I don't, Senator," Bill replied. "I only spend two-thirds. Two-thirds is all."

"And the other third—you bank that, William, I suppose?"

"No, Senator, I do better'n that with it. I give it to the wife to run the house."

REAL FACTS OF MADERO'S DEATH

Told By a Secret Service Agent

WHO KNEW ALL PARTICULARS

Former President of Mexico Tortured To Death By Huerta's Cohorts.

BRAVELY HELD OUT TILL END

New York, April 4.—There were seated in one group in a cafe here recently a number of men who included William J. Robison, who landed in Cincinnati when he was not quite 17 years of age, forlorn and lone some, with only $1.75 in his pocket, and who has since handled millions; Commodore Robert F. Wolfe, of Columbus; Alden G. Brown, mining expert, who on Thursday sailed for Cuba, where he will represent Great New York and Cuban interests in industrial, financial and mining developments; together with a topnotcher in the Government's Secret Service Department, whose name it would do no good to mention.

This Secret Service man had much experience in Cuba and in Spain before the declaration of war against Spain. With many other men of his business he has had a great deal of experience in Mexico, and largely through him has been laid before President Wilson affairs and conditions in the so-called republic across the border. This has been so much so that Mexico is today an open book to the President, while it is almost a closed one to the more than average citizen. The talk was regarding Mexico.

Commodore Wolfe had told a story of the hanging of a "bad" man in his home town of Texas, the first hanging of a white man in all that section. He had said that he believed it would be a bad thing for this country to send its men into Mexico simply to pacify that country and then turn it back into the hands of its present rulers.

It was here that the Secret Service man, on very friendly terms with all, spoke up. "You need have no fear," he said, "of Wilson recognizing the Huerta Government. He knows just how Madero met his death, in the most horrible manner, and he nor no other man could ever think of recognizing Huerta as a ruler or nation power."

There have been many stories told about how Madero was assassinated. Here was an opportunity of getting at the real facts from an authentic source. It was taken advantage of by all. Very much inclined to talk, but being among friends, this Secret Service man told the true story of how Madero was tortured to death, and which now is a matter of history in the archives of the State Department at Washington. It was without doubt the most revolting story of cruelty and inquisition of which the world has ever known.

Madero, as is well known, was taken by cohorts of Huerta and thrown into a closed chamber in the palace. It has been claimed by some that he was killed in that chamber and then removed to the outer walls of the Federal Penitentiary. Huerta himself told a story of how Madero was being brought for safety to the Federal Penitentiary when he was set upon by his enemies and killed.

The story that President Wilson heard, and to him it was shown to be true, was an entirely different one. Late on the night when Madero was thrown into his prison he was approached by Huerta and six companions. Huerta held before Madero a paper which he told him to sign. It contained articles of abdication. Madero read the paper and stated positively that he preferred to die rather than sign such a paper, which he said would show cowardice upon his part. He was then subjected to unspeakable tortures. The pain caused him to faint away. When he recovered,

It has long been averred that there is nothing surer than death and taxes, but Mr. Rockefeller seems to be able to dodge both these days.

The fact that it is now beseiging time will probably not change the attitude of some politically inclined gentlemen who have had a hen on for some time.

Let's see—didn't we used to hear of a certain gentleman of Illinois in high political life who was accused of wearing pink whiskers? So what's the matter with purple hair?

In speaking of their high temper, some people try to excuse their lack of control of it by saying "It's all over in a minute." A quart of triglycerine can beat that for time.

We are hoping that advertiser in the Owensboro Messenger who is still extolling the virtues of his Christmas letter will be in plenty of time for the next mid-winter holiday.

Scientists tell us that radium makes a good fertilizer for wheat. But as there are said to be only twelve grains of radium now in existence, it will probably be a long while before it is bought by the hundred pounds for agricultural purposes.

In some large cities, it is said, there are several noble hearted street car conductors who, in the course of a year, teach a class of 25 or 30 young men the rudiments of politeness and etiquette without any cost whatever to the pupils—except hospital charges.

The Louisville Courier-Journal editorially calls for "an organization for the protection of rich but respectable families from those who would fleece their sons." Why not, for the especial benefit of the rich men's sons, increase the wages of the fool-killer or hire a few dozen assistants?

Count one more for the confusing and demoralizing influence of the tango. During a daylight robbery in Louisville a man across the street said he saw the robber and the young lady cashier of the robbed institution struggling around in the front office, but thought the robber was some young man taking tango lessons and he didn't interfere. Evidently the observer had seen the tango dance.

The Bowling Green Messenger, in a double-headed, double-column editorial, booms President H. H. Cherry, of the Western Kentucky State Normal School, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor. The Messenger draws a strong parallel between President Cherry and President Wilson—both school teachers by profession—as men of administrative genius and ability. No one can doubt the fitness of Dr. Cherry for the place.

Again this year there is a strong effort being made for the curtailment of the tobacco crop. By all means it should succeed and in a much more effective way than in former years. The greatest effort should be made for quality instead of quantity. From recent experiences it is clearly evident that the less tobacco and more of other marketable stuff the farmers raise for the next few years, the better financial conditions they will find themselves in.

The Insurance Trust seems to be bitterly opposed to a Congressional investigation of its business. In a circular letter issued it is stated that "Insurance not being commerce, Congress cannot regulate it, and an investigation would disclose nothing not already known, and especially would offer no immediate relief." Several more reasons are offered why the investigation should not proceed. All of which seem to constitute a very good reason why it should proceed.

The Central City Argus says Muhlenberg county has a minister who wants to transform his church from a house of envy into a real house of worship on Easter Sunday. The Argus says this minister is Rev. Paul S. Powell, pastor of the Drakesboro Methodist church, and that Rev. Powell is sending out letters to the members of his congregation, urging them not to celebrate Easter with a "dress parade," but to make the day a truly Christian Easter, "on which we shall think more of Christ and less of outward adornment." This is certainly a strong lesson containing much of true religion. In these days the church has gotten to be more of a show place for the exhibits of the latest styles in headgear and other wearing apparel than it is a sanctuary for the true worship of God. Rev. Powell is offering a lesson worthy of emulation.

RECENT LEGISLATURE WAS FAIRLY GOOD ONE

The Elizabethtown News says: We believe that the press of the State is unfair to the Legislature. It was not altogether bad. In fact it passed some excellent measures. The bill against carrying concealed deadly weapons which disfranchises for two years and convicts as a felony for the second offense, will go a long way toward putting a stop to a custom which has cost many lives. The anti-cigarette law is a protection to boys and is in line with acts in many of the other States. The two and a half cent railroad fare bill was a most excellent law, as was the measure providing State aid to roads. The bill looking toward stamping out adult illiteracy certainly commands itself to all educated people. There were several other good educational laws adopted.

The Glenn-Green insurance law will in the end turn out to be a splendid law which will materially reduce insurance premiums. Had the Legislature but passed a good revenue and taxation law the body

"REGULATOR" RAIDS IN MUHLENBERG COUNTY*Man Hitched Beside a Mule and Made To Haul His Family Wood.

Greenville, Ky., April 4.—Some kind of an organization, which is secret in its nature, is flourishing in Muhlenberg county. One of the things which brought the secret organization to the notice of the county officials here was the fact that one of the employees of a coal company in the county was waited upon by a large number of disguised and armed men in the night time and threatened for some alleged grievance. As a result of that escapade five men were indicted by the grand jury of the county at the last January term of the Circuit Court for unlawfully confederating together for the purpose of intimidating another. They are now under bond to answer to those indictments and their cases will probably be tried at the April term of the court.

Since that occurrence several men at various places have been taken from their homes in the night time and flogged for alleged shortcomings. More than one mine foreman in the county has been given that sort of treatment.

One of the most recent visits of the so-called "regulators" was a few nights ago when a well known citizen of the county was waited upon and forced to assist in hauling several cords of firewood for the use of his family. According to rumor, he was hitched to a vehicle by the side of a mule and made to pull his work practically all night and until several cords of wood had been delivered convenient to the house. When that task was done the alleged delinquent was placed in a stall in the barn by the side of the mule and forced to eat some corn.

BE SHOWED THEM HOW TO RAISE OTHER CROPS

The Frankfort State Journal says: Down in Webster county a farmer, who resides near Providence, quit growing tobacco a year or two ago and went in for live stock raising, at the same time growing crops that are suitable for one who is making a specialty of live stock. A few days ago some of the tobacco growers around Providence were showing the checks they had received for their tobacco. The tobacco raiser promptly put them all on the blink by flashing a check for $2139.60, the proceeds from a sale of hogs and cattle. A good many of the followers of the weed went home that day doing considerable thinking about the advisability of expanding their efforts in the way of raising cattle and hogs. Probably some of them will be cutting the tobacco acreage this spring and preparing to build silos next fall.

It's Some Experience.

If a man wants to get acquainted with human nature, let him edit a newspaper for a short time. He knows nothing of the ups and downs of life until he has served in this capacity. He may have preached, conducted a bank, sold goods, traded horses, practiced law, sawed wood or operated a popcorn factory, but he needs a few months' experience as an editor-in-chief of a country newspaper to complete his knowledge of the eccentricities of human nature.

Farmers Interest Seed Corn
Will Increase Your Yield 10 to 30 Bu. Per Acre.

We care not what corn you have now; if you plant FARMERS INTEREST WHITE DENT alongside of it it will beat it 10 to 30 bushels per acre.

Farmers Interest has been bred for 18 years. Barren stalks have been eliminated, the ears grow very large and the quality is high. This variety has always won the highest honors at the great International Corn Expositions, open to the world, from the first held in Chicago in 1907, down to and including this year, 1914.

The selection, breeding and improvement of this corn has conferred on farmers, and all the people, greater benefits than all the work of Luther Burbank, the plant wizard of California.

The least expensive and most certain way to improve a corn crop is to let others do the breeding and you buy the result at a small price per bushel. For a farmer to produce a bushel of corn like we will sell him for a couple of dollars would require the work of years—worth a thousand dollars or more.

Send your name for a FREE sample and further particulars and photo-reproductions of grand sweepstakes exhibits. Better write NOW. The photographs of prize-winning corn are well worth seeing.

The defendant, Wydick, and complainant, Bessie White, both live near Echols, this county.

Won Handsome Medal.

Richard Allen Foster, son of Joseph Foster, Marlinton, Ky., formerly of Hartford, won the annual oratorical contest of the Patterson Literary Society at State University, Lexington, Ky., Thursday night and was awarded the handsome gold medal which is offered yearly by Dr. James K. Patterson to the winner.

Mr. Foster's subject was "The Making of Men" and the decision was rendered in consideration of composition, thought and delivery.

In presenting the medal Dr. Patterson said that during all his experience in attending the annual contests of the society that was named for him he had never heard as good orations.

The decision was announced after a lengthy discussion by the judges, for the orations were all of such unusual merit as to make the final decision an uncertainty until the announcement was made.

How to Detect the Alum Baking Powder

"Which are the alum baking powders; how can I avoid them unless they are named?" asks a housekeeper.

Here is one way: take the can of a low-priced powder in your hand and read the ingredient clause upon the back label. The law requires that if the powder contains alum that fact must be there stated. If you find one of the ingredients named alum, or sulphate of aluminum, you have found an alum baking powder.

There is another and a better way. You don't have to know the names of the alum powders. Use Royal Baking Powder only; that assures you a cream of tartar powder, and the purest and most healthful baking powder beyond question.

BARRETT'S FERRY.

April 6. Mr. Ed Berkley and family left for Sheridan, Ark., last Thursday. They intend to make their future home.

The house recently vacated by Mr. Ed Berkley burned last Thursday night. The house was owned by Mrs. Lizzie Miller of Olaton. The fire was probably caused by mice igniting some matches that were left in the building.

Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Foreman and Mrs. R. R. Wedding, Hartford, are visiting relatives in this vicinity this week.

SPECIFICATIONS OF NEW GOOD-ROADS LAWPassed By Recent Legislature—Will Not Be In Effect This Year.

The Good Roads Bill passed by the Legislature and now being widely discussed, levies a tax of five cents for the aid of county road building. The revenues from this source coming in to the treasury with other taxes and being paid out upon estimates of the State Commissioner of Roads as contracts for road building are performed, will strengthen the State's financial condition and save the issuing of many thousands of dollars in 5 per cent. warrants. It is estimated that the annual revenue for the road fund will amount to $600,000.

The act safeguards the fund, it is believed. All work must be done under the supervision of an inspector appointed by the State Commissioner of Roads. Road improvements for which the fund is available include such work as is done according to plans agreed upon by the Commissioner of Roads and Fiscal Courts. The Commissioner must prepare plans and specifications and make surveys. The plans are finally adopted by the Fiscal Court, which must advertise for bids, and before the contract becomes binding on the State, the contract must be approved by the Commissioner of Roads. The fund is available in proportion to the county levies and collections for roads, the State paying for the work half the expense, but not including the purchase of the right of way. The fund also is available where a county issues bonds and makes a levy for a slacking fund to retire the bonds; but no county is entitled to more than 2 per cent. of the State's fund in any one year. The fund does not revert into the State's general expenditure fund at the end of the fiscal year, but the surplus continues to increase the next year's fund. Municipalities may take advantage of it.

The law affects the State levy of 1915, and every year thereafter, but not this year, and will be collected the latter part of 1915. This, however, will not materially retard the work, as the counties and the State Road Department have a large amount of preliminary work to do in selecting roads to be improved, making surveys, drawing plans and preparing and adopting specifications. [Lebanon Enterprise.]

FINE CLUBBING OFFER.

The Atlanta Tri-Weekly Constitution, published at Atlanta, Ga., is almost equal to a daily paper, being issued on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of each week. Yet the price is only $1 a year. This includes any one of a large number of valuable premiums, all of them useful in the household—all for $1.

We have made arrangements with the Constitution, however, by which we can have both the Tri-Weekly and the Hartford Herald sent to you one year for only $1.75. This includes any one of the premiums. Write the Constitution for a list of their premiums, select one and send your subscription ($1.75) to The Herald, Hartford, Ky.

HOW WOULD YOU SPEND A MILLION DOLLARS?

The American Magazine has been offering prizes for the best letters entitled "What I Would Do With a Million Dollars." The three prize-winning letters are published in the April number. An extract from one follows:

"Yes, if I had a million dollars I wouldn't try to turn it into a billion. And I wouldn't go around building libraries and churches, though nobody thinks more highly of those philanthropists than I do. But I'd seek out old couples who have worked hard all their lives, and I'd see that their last years made up for all the hardships of the years gone by—so that they could take leave of life with a song on their lips instead of a moan."

Doctors Endorse

If we did not believe doctors endorsed Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for coughs and colds, we would not offer it to you. Sold for 70 years.

Ask Your Doctor. T. C. Ayer & Son.

Then I'd search out deserving young couples, who with their little families are trying to make a start. I'd give them just enough of a lift to keep away that disheartenment which is most despairing when it comes at a time when youth should still be dreaming—just enough of a lift to keep some of the sweetness of life in their hearts, so they wouldn't grow old and cross and crabby, with their dreams all dead."

AGED WOMAN GETS RIDE IN A BIG AUTO AT LAST

Hannond, Ind., April 3.—Mary Evans, aged, bent and crippled, often had observed automobiles skimming gayly past the cottage, where she and her aged husband lived, and wished she might ride in an automobile, if just for once.

Yesterday her wish was realized. The ride was from her home to the County Poor Farm, and in no sense of the term could it be classed as a "joy ride." Last week her husband, who was seventy-four years old, lost his position and he stumbled home with black despair written on his face.

He and his wife had no resources and merely were pinching out an existence on his little wages. They were facing eviction and starvation, so Sunday night the old man cut his throat and died a few hours later.

They had been the parents of twelve children, all of whom died, leaving them a heavy load of grief and burial expenses and no one to whom they could turn in the hour of their extremity.

So, Mr. Evans lost his job, cut his throat and his aged wife finally rode in an automobile.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

FEMININE HATS AND HAIR DISARRANGED

Washington, April 3.—Two women engaged in a physical encounter for possession of a gent just before the House convened to take up discussion of the Tolls Repeal Bill. It was a stirring battle, the hats and coiffures of the feminine contestants being rudely disturbed before doorkeepers could part them.

Look To Your Plumbing.

You know what happens in a house in which the plumbing is in poor condition—everybody in the house is liable to contract typhoid or some other fever. The digestive organs perform the same functions in the human body as the plumbing does for the house, and they should be kept in first-class condition all the time. If you have any trouble with your digestion take Chamberlain's Tablets and you are certain to get quick relief. For sale by all dealers.

THIS TREATMENT WAS PRETTY TOUGH ON FRED

Little Rock, Ark., April 3.—A few minutes after having received a pardon from Governor Hays, which released him from a 115-year sentence, Fred Pelton, negro, was electrocuted to-day at the State Penitentiary here for the killing of Melvina Latton, negress, whom he murdered to secure 50 cents. There was a question as to the legality of electrocuting Pelton until after he had served his 115-year sentence, and for this reason the pardon was granted.

A Coincidence.

Mr. W. L. Browning, an architect who has an office in the Southern Building in Washington, D. C., is subscribing for practically all the newspapers in the Fourth Congressional District. It is a little singular that Mr. Browning occupies an office in the Southern Building with Mr. H. H. Warner, to whom Congressman Ben Johnson paid his respects in a speech about two weeks ago.

While with some life is a fat grunt, with others it is a jaunty squeak.

POEMS YOU'LL ENJOY.The Herald's Special Selections*MY CASTLE IN SPAIN.

Have you noticed the blue in the distance,
Where the mountain climbs up from the plain?

That is the place where I've builded
My stately castle in Spain.

When the moon to the night gives her splendor,

I see all her turrets and battlements plain,
With the sentinel fleets up in cloudland.

Keeping guard o'er my princely domain.

A stream laps the foot of my castle—

A river so placid and clear,
There the beautiful thoughts of the inmates,

Like the faces of angels appear.

The ocean sweeps 'round to my castle—

The harbor is always in sight;
I keep watch for my ships coming in
With cargoes of ceaseless delight.

The highway that leads to this castle—

As yet sadly falls on my sight;
Though I see it quite plain in the daytime.

I discern it more clearly at night,
Steadily fixing my vision upon it.

My steps to that beacon I bend—
Like the rainbow, I fear 'tis a lure.

And I'll garner no gold at the end.

KILLED WHILE TRYING TO DO A TRAPEZE ACT

New York, April 1.—Ella Hackett, a nineteen-year-old equestrienne, was killed almost instantly by a fall of 50 feet from a trapeze to an improvised platform in the arena of a circus in Madison Square Garden to-day.

Ambitions to appear in a trapeze act, she was rehearsing after the afternoon performance. While attempting a "revolving swing" she fell head downward. Only a few of the circus employees were present at the time.

Miss Hackett was a daughter of Dr. Clarence L. Hackett, a dentist, of this city.

Pinched Them All.

A teacher in a large city school sent one of her scholars to buy a pound of plums from a fruit vendor on the street, and as she handed the little girl a dime she said:

"Be sure, Mary, before buying the plums, to pinch one or two, just to make sure that they are ripe."

In a little while the child returned with flushed cheeks and a triumphant look in her eyes.

Handing the teacher the bag of plums, she placed the dime on the desk and exclaimed:

"I pinched one or two as you told me, and when the man wasn't looking I pinched a bagful!"—[National Monthly.]

POOR DOG MUST LIVE ON ONLY $1,200 A YEAR

Houston, April 4.—"Pete Crafts" will continue to enjoy luxuries uncommon among dogs. The Probate Court to-day approved the will of his late master, John Chancellor Crafts, which provides a fund of $1,200 a year for the upkeep of Pete. Relatives, who had been cut off without a cent contested the will alleging "undue influences." At the hearing witnesses told how Pete had presided at the head of the table at "birthday parties" given in his honor.

Found a Cure For Rheumatism.

"I suffered with rheumatism for two years and could not get my right hand to my mouth for that length of time," writes Lee L. Chapman, Mapleton, Iowa. "FAGGED-OUT" WOMENWill Find Help in This Letter.

Overworked, run down, "fagged out" women who feel as though they could hardly drag about, should profit by Mrs. Brill's experience.

She says: "I was in a very weak, run-down condition. Life was not worth living. I could not sleep, was very nervous, stomach bad, and was not able to work.

"I consulted with one or two physicians, without benefit. I read of Vinol helping some one in a similar condition so I began to take it, and it simply did wonders for me. I gained in weight and I am now in better health and stronger than ever. I eat and find words enough to praise Vinol!"—Mrs. W. H. Brill, Racine, Wis.

Thousands of women and men who were formerly weak and sickly owe their present rugged health to the wonderful strength-creating effects of Vinol. We guarantee Vinol to build you up and make you strong. If it does not we give back your money.

You Have Nasal Catarrh Not Very Bad, But--- It Bothers You a Good Deal.

Some people have nasal catarrh and know it. Not only the patient knows it, but all of his friends know it. Many people know it that are not his friends. Just those people who happen to meet him in the street car or on the public square.

That sort of a nasal catarrh need not be described. Everybody knows the symptoms without their disgusting recital.

Peruna helps such cases every day. Thousands have attested to this fact unsolicited. Peruna benefits even the worst cases of old nasal catarrh.

But there are cases of nasal catarrh not so evident. One nostril is stopped today. The other nostril is stopped tomorrow. Cannot breathe freely through the nostrils. Easy to sneeze. Mucus in the nose too thick. Sometimes forms brownish lumps. Catch cold easily. Never quite free of a cold. These symptoms deserve a case of subacute nasal catarrh. Many people have it, and some who would not admit they have nasal catarrh.

He knows he must blow his nose freely. He remembers that he does not breathe easily through the nose further.

He recalls the fact that he smokes some now, whereas he did not previously.

Subacute nasal catarrh? Or we might call it incipient nasal catarrh. Or, still better, nasal catarrh just beginning and becoming chronic.

Now is the time to take Peruna. A little Peruna will do wonders at this stage of the disease. Snuff a little weak salt water every morning (see "Iles of Life," sent free by Peruna Co., Columbus, Ohio), just enough to clear out the nose. Take a dose of Peruna before breakfast. Hold it in the mouth. Let it trickle down slowly and breathe the fumes of it out through the nose as you swallow it.

This will stop an incipient case of nasal catarrh in a few weeks. Stop it entirely. The nose becomes clear again. The breath is sweet. The breathing free. No more snoring, or snuffling, or sniffing, or catching a cold easily. All of these things are in the past.

An army of men and women have been benefited by Peruna. You might as well become one of the benefited ones as to allow it to go on any further.

TREASURES OF ALASKA NEEDING DEVELOPMENT

Census of "Seward's Folly"
Shows That Immense
Wealth Is Waiting.

Little is generally known of the magnificent resources and possibilities of Alaska, which our nation, against much criticism and outcry, acquired in 1867 from Russia. This addition to our national domain was so unpopular that for years it was known as "Seward's Folly," because of the fact that Secretary of State Seward negotiated the treaty of annexation. The rank absurdity of such a characterization is revealed by a brief survey of the physical and material aspects of the country.

By the last census, the population of the territory was 62,356, including natives. In the years 1910 and 1911 the gold production was valued at between $16,000,000 and $17,000,000 per annum. The production of silver leaped from 157,550 ounces in 1910 to 460,321 ounces in 1911. In the same period the production of copper was increased fivefold. Because the coal fields have not been developed, 71,542 tons had to be imported in 1911. Agricultural endeavors have been most successful, and winter wheat, winter rye, hay, alfalfa, potatoes, grain, clover and various grasses have been effectively brought in and cultivated.

Much wealth is derived from the fisheries. In the salmon industry, for example, in 1902 there was an investment of $33,759,295 in salmon canning enterprises.

The aggregate value of exports and imports between Alaska and the United States for the fiscal year of 1912 was $62,680,507. The shipments of merchandise from Alaska increased from $15,736,500 in 1910, to $18,806,270 in 1911. The total value of the shipments, including copper and the precious metals, increased almost $7,000,000 over the figures of 1911. The gain was due almost wholly to the increased value of copper ore and canned salmon.

Development of this immense, rich region is, indeed, imperative. For nearly half a century it has been practically closed under a narrow and restrictive Governmental policy, but the time has come when we must enter and order wisely our drafts upon its literally golden resources.—[Richmond Times Dispatch.]

HOTEL INSPECTION LAW FOR LODGING HOUSES

The Hotel Inspection Bill passed by the recent Legislature carries with it, in addition to the appointment of an Inspector, the appointment of a Deputy Inspector at a salary of $2,000 and a stenographer at $800. The Inspector, who will be appointed by Governor McCreary, will have his office at Frankfort. The act, it is said, was framed by a traveling salesman, and applies to lodging houses and restaurants as well as hotels. Among the numerous requirements of the new law are ninety-nine-inch sheets, two of them on every bed, and made of white linen or cotton, washed after being used: two clean towels a day in each room, individual towels during certain hours in the public washrooms; a window in each room opening outside or into an air shaft; a half-way door; a chemical fire extinguisher or a stand-pipe for every 2,500 feet of floor space; stairway fire escapes for three-story buildings, and proper sanitary conveniences. A $2 fee for a license and a tax of 25 cents per room, not to exceed $10 annually, are to be collected from hotels for the support of the department.—[Lebanon Enterprise.]

SPECIAL NOTICE
OBITUARIES, RESOLUTIONS
OF RESPECT, &c.
• • • • •

The Hartford Herald has adopted a new rule in regard to Obituaries, Resolutions of Respect, Cards of Thanks, &c., whether written personally or for lodges, churches or individuals, and that is, we shall charge at the rate of five cents per line for all such articles, except obituary poetry, which will be one cent per word straight.

The amount, in cash or stamps, must accompany each article, or it will not be printed. Six words average a line in ordinary reading and every separate character or initial letter counts as a word. The heading and the signature both count one line each, even if they are only a word or two. All obituary poetry, straight through, one cent per word. This ruling applies to everybody alike, without any distinction.

RADIUM TREATMENTS

FAILED TO CURE CANCER

Doomed Man Has Grown White.

Haired—Now Faces Three Alternatives.

Denver, April 3. The spectacle of a prominent physician hopelessly afflicted with cancer of the tongue calmly discussing three ways of dying is presented here in the case of Dr. E. F. Lake, who has just returned to Denver after three months' observation and three radium treatments by Dr. Howard A. Kelly, in Baltimore.

Dr. Lake, his hair turned snow white in two years, has little hope for life. He says he has considered slow death by cancer, suicide and possibly death from an operation to remove his tongue and lower jaw as the only choices open to him. After calm deliberation, he has勇敢ly made up his mind to risk the knife as offering him his one chance for life. He probably will return to Baltimore next week and submit to the operation in Johns Hopkins University by Dr. Joseph Bloodgood.

"There are only those three things left for me," said Dr. Lake to-day and the tears ran down his face. "It's death—a matter of one year or two, or suicide and there are my wife and family to be considered—or the operation which holds life and death in the balance for me. I probably shall take the last."

"To die is nothing, but to count the days when that death must come surely that is why my hair is so white," and he shuddered.

Only when he thinks is Dr. Lake's affliction apparent. His tongue, to which the radium treatment was applied three times, is twisted, seared and burned.

"It may be death and it may be life, but that is now not so certain," he says. Mrs. Lake will go with her husband to stand by him in his last battle for life.
